Incerti honoured with memorial scholarship

Murray Dairy together with Dairy Australia launched a regional scholarship last week honouring its former CEO, Maurice Incerti.

The $8000 scholarship will be awarded to a dairy farmer from Northern Victoria or Southern New South Wales for a study, study tour, research or any combination on the condition it provides benefit to the region's dairy industry'

The Scholarship was launched by Allan Burgess, the President of Australian Dairy Farmers and inaugural Chair of Murray Dairy where he first worked with Maurice Incerti in 1996.

The scholarship commemorates the life of Maurice who sadly lost his battle with cancer in 2008.

Chairman of Murray Dairy, Jeff Odgers said, "Maurice was an extremely passionate advocate of the industry and contributed to its development in many ways during his 12 year involvement at Murray Dairy".

"We are pleased to establish a scholarship that will continue to honour all of Maurice's great work", Mr Odgers said.

Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to the dairy industry and report findings back to the Industry Steering Group.

Applications close Monday 26th July 2009.

Full copies of the application form are available on Murray Dairy website at www.murraydairy.com.au/.
